

At the first year of the university, as in a new habitat

cheap research paper

Winged parents and teachers at school student comes to the first course, believing that the main goal of his life was already implemented. There are many new people, new ambitions, pleasant and sometimes unexpected dating, first love and a new environment, and thoughts about studying will very soon go to the background.

Especially difficult to non-resident freshmen, which, if necessary, populate into student hostels. This is just the "Cloaca Depravity", which will always stand on the way to successful studies and a prosperous session. But now it's not about it!

The curator is about the same as the class teacher at school; However, unlike its first, no one will report for the performance of a student. So you can not wait for his call to the house, but it will sound only when the documents for deductions fall on the signature to the rector (and not always - if you are very lucky).

If a teacher tries at school to pull out every unbelievable student, defending his honor as a qualified teacher, then a somewhat different approach is in the university. First, poor performance is a student's problem; And the second - the teacher's salary does not affect the number of lagging students. So in this educational institution there is one principle - "everyone for itself"!

And last: to run for the teacher at the university will have to be a student, but not the opposite; But the "teacup" can also "run away", every time looking for weighty arguments for its increased employment. So it will definitely have to be patient - for a long five years! As you know, all students feel humiliated and offended!

How to quickly adapt in higher educational institution?

If you are lucky enough to be credited to the first year of the university, it is important to understand that from now on did not launch, but a zealous work; Which will give their fruits only five years later.

So that all these years have not passed meaningless, already in the first year, and better on September 1, give yourself an installation and arrange priorities: why did you come here to learn, and what are you planning to achieve in the future?

For prosperous and fast adaptation at the university there are simple rules that are detailed below:

1. In communicating with new teachers, demonstrate their modesty, restraint, but the main thing is to interest in study. These competent people will evaluate your knowledge more than one year, so it is best to immediately establish invisible contact with them.

2. Do not walk the pairs, especially lectures. As a rule, at such collective occupations, the lecturer tries to remember even if not by the name, but in the eyes most of the students; And at such moments it is best to attend its "visible range".

Many teachers perceive lecture walks as disrespecting in their address; Therefore, it is not necessary to risk it, otherwise the consequences of such mutual misunderstanding can be the most unexpected.

3. When answering a question, it is advisable to call your surname, as teachers always remember the most active students, and some of them are even awarded with their favor. Such "links" at the university will certainly not be superfluous.

4. If you have chosen an old-fashioned class, then you should never forget about holidays, and always congratulate the teachers, at least in words. Such attention is definitely flattered, and about the group, in general, the most favorable impression will be formed. It does not hurt anyone!

5. Always perform a homework, giving your interest to the teacher in a particular subject. If something is unclear, then you can always make a puzzled face and seek help from a qualified teacher by a particular object.

6. And last: performance and behavior, as well as in school, should not be "chrome", and the lagging student will never be able to have positive emotions from the teacher and a feeling of deep sympathy.

So, when receiving a higher education, it will not be easy for anyone, the main thing is not to be decking ahead of time and choose a responsible approach to future studies in five years to become a qualified specialist in one area or another. And then everything will definitely work out!

Conclusion: I am sure that this article has helped many applicants at least imagine that they expect them in the villas of the university after enrollment for the first course. I hope that I referred to me, will noticeably facilitate the process of adaptation in a new educational institution with completely different requirements and requests.
